

G.A.S - station invites to contribute to the topic centered exhibition - project:

Das DING - THING

Object and/or Individual

positions in art, science and literature

Contributions should broach the following issues:

1. What is a thing?

Reflexions on the use of the terminology, ways of thinking, and conceptions of materiality and dinglichkeit.

Questioning the thing doesn't only initiate reflexions on the use of a terminology: what are we talking about when we talk about a thing? Is it just a common word or are some of its conceptions more rich in content? Asking about the thing initiates reflexions about what a thing is. A concrete object or an abstract object? Something strictly individual? Just an object or even a person? What does the term thing mean to us?

2. Works in the field of tension and in the connection between object and individual, objectively and individually regarded. These works deal with matters such as our material dependance and imprinting. They may equally ask for the manifold ways of producing or constituting things.

The focus of the G.A.S - station project CHAOS is the juxtaposition of different medial and formal approaches.

Therefore, we welcome artistic contributions of all sorts - filmlets, installations, plastic & fine arts, performances, literature, music as well as scientific contributions, presentations, lectures or accompanying texts concerning the subject.

Das DING – THING is our third interdisciplinary exposition after eMOTION 2008-2009 and CHAOS 2009-2010.

If you're interested in contributing to G.A.S - station's DING project, or in taking part, please contact us. Please attach a short sketch of your idea right away.

We're looking forward to your proposals & suggestions!

Yours,

The G.A.S - station Team

Elisa Asenbaum /Thomas Stuck
